

Canada Child Benefits Application

Complete this form to apply for all child benefit programs. The information you give on this form will be used for all programs, unless you indicate otherwise on a note attached to your application.

For information about our programs, see Pamphlet T4114, Canada Child Benefits, Pamphlet RC4210, GST/HST Credit, visit our Web site at www.cra.gc.ca/benefits or call us at 1-800-387-1193.

How to apply?

You can apply for the Canada Child Tax Benefit (CCTB) by using the Apply for benefits online service on My Account at www.cra.gc.ca/myaccount or complete this form and send it, along with any other required documents, to one of our tax centres listed on page 2 of this information sheet.

Complete and submit this application as soon as possible after the child is born or begins to live with you, or when you become a resident of Canada for income tax purposes.

Part 1 – Information about the applicant

Who should complete Part 1?

For CCTB purposes, it is presumed that when both a male and a female parent live in the same home as the child, the female parent is considered to be primarily responsible (see the definition on page 2 of this information sheet) for the child and should apply. However, if the male parent is primarily responsible, he can apply if he attaches a signed note from the female parent to his application, which states that the male parent is primarily responsible for all of the children in the household.

The person who is primarily responsible for the care and upbringing of the child should complete Part 1.

Does your application include a period that started more than 11 months ago?

Note

If your application includes a period that started more than 11 months ago, it is considered late.

In order to receive payments, you must attach legible photocopies of both sides of all pages of the following documents for the entire period that started more than 11 months ago:

- Proof of citizenship status (for example, a Canadian birth certificate) and/or immigration status in Canada for you and your spouse or common-law partner, if you have one.
- Proof that you resided in Canada, such as a lease or rent receipts, utility bills, or bank statements.
- Proof of birth for each child. See Part 3 on this page.
- Proof that you were the person who is primarily responsible (see the definition on page 2 of this information sheet) for the care and upbringing of the child(ren). This could include, but is not limited to, a signed statement from a school, daycare or nursery, a medical professional, or a lawyer.

What is your current marital status?

Tick "Married" if you have a spouse, or "Living common-law" if you have a common-law partner. If you have been separated for less than 90 days, you are still considered to be married or living common-law. For more information, see the definitions on page 2 of this information sheet.

Part 2 – Information about your spouse or common-law partner

Complete Part 2 of the application only if you ticked box 1 or 2 in Part 1.

Part 3 – Information about the child(ren)

Complete this part to provide information about the child(ren).

Do not provide information about a child for whom you have already applied, or for whom you receive benefits.

Note

If a child left your care and has now returned to your care, you have to provide information about that child again.

When do you need to provide proof of birth?

You need to attach proof of birth for the child if we have not previously paid benefits to anyone for this child, and any of the following applies:

- the child was born outside Canada; or
- the child was born in Canada and is one year of age or older.

Attach legible photocopies of both sides of all pages of one of the following documents for proof of birth:

- baptismal or cradle roll certificate or other church record;
- birth certificate or birth registration;
- hospital record of birth or record of the physician, nurse, or midwife who attended the birth;
- passport;
- Record of Landing or Confirmation of Permanent Residence issued by Citizenship and Immigration Canada;
- citizenship certificate; or
- Notice of Decision or a Temporary Resident's Permit issued under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act.

Shared eligibility

There are situations where a child may reside with two different individuals on a more or less equal basis, and both of these individuals share equally in the child's care and upbringing. If this situation applies to you, attach a note to your application that clearly states your parenting arrangement. For more information, visit our Web site at www.cra.gc.ca/benefits or call us at 1-800-387-1193.

Part 4 – Change of recipient

Complete this part if the child(ren) had been living with another individual or were maintained by an agency.

Part 5 – Certification

You have to sign and complete this part. If you completed Part 2, your spouse or common-law partner also has to sign and complete this part.

Definitions

Common-law partner

This applies to a person who is not your spouse, with whom you are living in a conjugal relationship, and to whom at least one of the following situations applies. He or she:

- a) has been living with you in a conjugal relationship for at least 12 continuous months;
- b) is the parent of your child by birth or adoption; or
- c) has custody and control of your child (or had custody and control immediately before the child turned 19 years of age) and your child is wholly dependent on that person for support.

In addition, an individual immediately becomes your common-law partner if you previously lived together in a conjugal relationship for at least 12 continuous months and you have resumed living together in such a relationship.

Under proposed changes, this condition will no longer exist. The effect of this proposed change is that a person (other than a person described in b) or c) above) will be your common-law partner only after your current relationship with that person has lasted at least 12 continuous months. This proposed change will apply to 2001 and later years.

Reference to "12 continuous months" in this definition includes any period that you were separated for less than 90 days because of a breakdown in the relationship.

Primarily responsible

Primarily responsible for the care and upbringing of a child means that you are responsible for such things as supervising the child's daily activities and needs, making sure the child's medical needs are met, and arranging for child care when necessary. If there is a female parent who lives with the child, we usually consider her to be this person. However, it could be the father, a grandparent, or a guardian.

Separated

You are separated when you start living separate and apart from your spouse or common-law partner because of a breakdown in the relationship and this separation lasts for at least 90 days during which time you have not reconciled.

Note

Once you have been separated for 90 days (due to a breakdown in the relationship), the effective day of your separated status is the day you started living separate and apart.

Spouse

This applies only to a person to whom you are legally married.
